Marketing for the auction will consist of a virtual tour, newspaper ads, flyers, and social media listings.

"This is a unique opportunity to participate in the bidding process and buy a beautiful oceanfront property at auction," said Marianne Sullivan, President of Sullivan & Sullivan Auctioneers, LLC. "Anyone who's interested in purchasing real estate at a reduced value would do well to be there."

Sullivan explained that with foreclosures, there is always an opportunity to get a bargain and save some money. In this particular case, the lender is very motivated and is expecting to sell it under the hammer at the auction!

The closing will take place within 30 days of the auction, and the new owner can be situated within a month. Furniture as shown with this property is negotiable.

Call or visit our website for terms of sale, broker guidelines and registration deadline, and open house information. The video tour can be accessed through our website at www.Sullivan-Auctioneers.com.
